60 issues with mixed content	60
About this issue:	0

If your website contains any elements that are not secured with HTTPS, this may lead to security issues. Moreover, browsers will warn users about loading unsecure content, and this may negatively affect user experience and reduce their confidence in your website.

How to fix:

Only embed HTTPS content on HTTPS pages.

Replace all HTTP links with the new HTTPS versions. If there are any external links leading to a page that has no HTTPS version, remove those links.

52 internal links are broken	52
About this issue:	0

Broken internal links lead users from one webpage to another and bring them to non-existent webpages. Multiple broken links negatively affect user experience and may worsen your search engine rankings because crawlers may think that your website is poorly maintained or coded.

Please note that our crawler may detect a working link as broken. Generally, this happens if the server hosting the website you're referring to blocks our crawler from accessing this website.

How to fix:

Please follow all links reported as broken. If a target webpage returns an error, remove the link leading to the error page or replace it with another resource.

If the links reported as broken do work when accessed with a browser, you should contact the website's owner and inform them about the issue.

2 pages returned 4XX status code About this issue: A 4xx error means that a webpage cannot be accessed. This is usually the result of broken links. These errors prevent users and search engine robots from accessing your webpages, and can negatively affect both user experience and search engine crawlability. This will in turn lead to a drop in traffic driven to your website. Please be aware that crawler may detect a working link as broken if your website blocks our crawler from accessing it. This usually happens due to the following reasons: - DDoS protection system - Overloaded or misconfigured server How to fix: If a webpage returns an error, remove all links leading to the error page or replace it with another resource. To identify all pages on your website that contain links to a 4xx page, click "View broken links" next to the error page. If the links reported as 4xx do work when accessed with a browser, you can try either of the following: - Contact your web hosting support team - Instruct search engine robots not to crawl your website too frequently by specifying the "crawl-delay" directive in your robots.txt	2 0
2 issues with duplicate title tags About this issue: Our crawler reports pages that have duplicate title tags only if they are exact matches. Duplicate <title> tags make it difficult for search engines to determine which of a website's pages is relevant for a specific search query, and which one should be prioritized in search results. Pages with duplicate titles have a lower chance of ranking well and are at risk of being banned. Moreover, identical <title> tags confuse users as to which webpage they should follow. How to fix: Provide a unique and concise title for each of your pages that contains your most important keywords. For information on how to create effective titles, please see this Google article . 253 issues with unminified JavaScript and CSS files	253

Minification is the process of removing unnecessary lines, white space and comments from the source code.

Minifying JavaScript and CSS files makes their size smaller, thereby decreasing your page load time, providing a better user experience and improving your search engine rankings.

For more information, please see this Google article.

How to fix:

Minify your JavaScript and CSS files.

If your webpage uses CSS and JS files that are hosted on an external site, contact the website owner and ask them to minify their files.

If this issue doesn't affect your page load time, simply ignore it.

188 links on HTTPS pages lead to HTTP page	188
About this issue:	0

If any link on website points to the old HTTP version of website, search engines can become confused as to which version of the page they should rank.

How to fix:

Replace all HTTP links with the new HTTPS versions.

36 images don't have alt attributes	36
About this issue:	0

Alt attributes within tags are used by search engines to understand the contents of your images. If you neglect alt attributes, you may miss the chance to get a better placement in search results because alt attributes allow you to rank in image search results.

Not using alt attributes also negatively affects the experience of visually impaired users and those who have disabled images in their browsers.

For more information, please see these articles: Using ALT attributes smartly and Google Image Publishing Guidelines

How to fix:

Specify a relevant alternative attribute inside an tag for each image on your website, e.g., "".

26 external images are broken About this issue: A broken external image is an image that can't be displayed because it no longer exists or because its URL is misspelled. Having too many broken external images negatively affects user experience and may be a signal to search engines that your website is poorly coded or maintained. How to fix: To fix a broken external image, perform one of the following: - If an image was deleted or damaged, replace it with a new one - If an image is no longer needed, simply remove it from your page's code - If an image moved to a different location and you know its new address, change its URL	26 0
26 pages don't have meta descriptions About this issue: Though meta descriptions don't have a direct influence on rankings, they are used by search engines to display your page's description in search results. A good description helps users know what your page is about and encourages them to click on it. If your page's meta description tag is missing, search engines will usually display its first sentence, which may be irrelevant and unappealing to users. For more information, please see these articles: Create good titles and snippets in Search Results and On-Page SEO Basics: Meta Descriptions How to fix: In order to gain a higher click-through rate, you should ensure that all of your webpages have meta descriptions that contain relevant keywords.	26 0
26 pages have low text-HTML ratio About this issue: Your text to HTML ratio indicates the amount of actual text you have on your webpage compared to the amount of code. This issue is triggered when your text to HTML is 10% or less. Search engines have begun focusing on pages that contain more content. That's why a higher text to HTML ratio means your page has a better chance of getting a good position in search results. Less code increases your page's load speed and also helps your rankings. It also helps search engine robots crawl your website faster. How to fix: Split your webpage's text content and code into separate files and compare their size. If the size of your code file exceeds the size of the text file, review your page's HTML code and consider optimizing its structure and removing embedded scripts and styles.	26 0

Warnings	Amount
11 pages have a low word count About this issue: This issue is triggered if the number of words on your webpage is less than 200. The amount of text placed on your webpage is a quality signal to search engines. Search engines prefer to provide as much information to users as possible, so pages with longer content tend to be placed higher in search results, as opposed to those with lower word counts. For more information, please view this video How to fix: Improve your on-page content and be sure to include more than 200 meaningful words.	11 0
6 pages don't have an h1 heading About this issue: While less important than <title> tags, h1 headings still help define your page's topic for search engines and users. If an <h1> tag is empty or missing, search engines may place your page lower than they would otherwise. Besides, a lack of an <h1> tag breaks your page's heading hierarchy, which is not SEO friendly. How to fix: Provide a concise, relevant h1 heading for each of your page.	6 0
1 page doesn't have enough text within the title tags About this issue: Generally, using short titles on webpages is a recommended practice. However, keep in mind that titles containing 10 characters or less do not provide enough information about what your webpage is about and limit your page's potential to show up in search results for different keywords. For more information, please see this Google article How to fix: Add more descriptive text inside your page's <title> tag.	1 0

224 URLs with a permanent redirect

About this issue:

Although using permanent redirects (a 301 or 308 redirect) is appropriate in many situations (for example, when you move a website to a new domain, redirect users from a deleted page to a new one, or handle duplicate content issues), we recommend that you keep them to a reasonable minimum. Every time you redirect one of your website's pages, it decreases your crawl budget, which may run out before search engines can crawl the page you want to be indexed. Moreover, too many permanent redirects can be confusing to users.

How to fix:

Review all URLs with a permanent redirect. Change permanent redirects to a target page URL where possible.

76 resources are formatted as page link

76

About this issue:

We detected that some links to resources are formatted with `` HTML element. An `` tag with a href attribute is used to link to other webpages and must only contain a page URL. Search engines will crawl your site from page to page by following these HTML page links. When following a page link that contains a resource, for example, an image, the returned page will not contain anything except an image. This may confuse search engines and will indicate that your site has poor architecture.

How to fix:

Review your links. Replace `` links with tags necessary for specific resources. For example, if you'd like to add an image, use an `<img>` tag with an alt attribute describing the contents of your image.

17 orphaned pages in sitemaps About this issue: An orphaned page is a webpage that is not linked to internally. Including orphaned pages in your sitemap.xml files is considered to be a bad practice, as these pages will be crawled by search engines. Crawling outdated orphaned pages will waste your crawl budget. If an orphaned page in your sitemap.xml file has valuable content, we recommend that you link to it internally. How to fix: Review all orphaned pages in your sitemap.xml files and do either of the following: - If a page is no longer needed, remove it - If a page has valuable content and brings traffic to your website, link to it from another page on your website - If a page serves a specific need and requires no internal linking, leave it as is	17 0
17 pages have only one incoming internal link About this issue: Having few incoming internal links means little to no visits or chances of being placed in search results. How to fix: Add more incoming internal links to pages with important content.	17 0
3 pages have more than one H1 tag About this issue: Although multiple <h1> tags are allowed in HTML5, we still do not recommend that you use more than one <h1> tag per page. Including multiple <h1> tags may confuse users. How to fix: Use multiple <h2>-<h6> tags instead of an <h1>.	3 0
2 subdomains don't support HSTS About this issue: HTTP Strict Transport Security (HSTS) informs web browsers that they can communicate with servers only through HTTPS connections. So, to ensure that you don't serve unsecured content to your audience, we recommend that you implement HSTS support. How to fix: Use a server that supports HSTS.	2 0

Llms.txt not found	1
About this issue:	0
The <code>llms.txt</code> file helps AI search engines better understand your website's content by providing LLM-friendly information. This file offers a short summary, guidance, and links to other useful resources.
How to fix:
• Create an <code>llms.txt</code> file. • Place it in your website's root directory and ensure the file is accessible. • Refer to llmstxt.org for examples and tips on how to properly create and manage it.
1 page is blocked from crawling	1
About this issue:	0
If a page cannot be accessed by search engines, it will never appear in search results. A page can be blocked from crawling either by a robots.txt file or a noindex meta tag.
How to fix:
Make sure that pages with valuable content are not blocked from crawling by mistake.
1 issue with blocked external resource in robots.txt	1
About this issue:	0
Blocked external resources are resources (e.g., CSS, JavaScript, image files, etc.) that are hosted on an external website and blocked from crawling by a "Disallow" directive in an external robots.txt file. Disallowing these files may prevent search engines from accessing them and, as a result, properly rendering and indexing your webpages. This, in return, may lead to lower rankings. For more information, please see this article .
How to fix:
If blocked resources that are hosted on an external website have a strong impact on your website, contact the website owner and ask them to edit their robots.txt file. If blocked resources are not necessary for your site, simply ignore them.
1 page needs more than 3 clicks to be reached	1
About this issue:	0
A page's crawl depth is the number of clicks required for users and search engine crawlers to reach it via its corresponding homepage. From an SEO perspective, an excessive crawl depth may pose a great threat to your optimization efforts, as both crawlers and users are less likely to reach deep pages.
For this reason, pages that contain important content should be no more than 3 clicks away from your homepage.
How to fix:
Make sure that pages with important content can be reached within a few clicks. If any of them are buried too deep in your site, consider changing your internal link architecture.

Broken internal links

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:
Broken internal links lead users from one webpage to another and bring them to non-existent webpages. Multiple broken links negatively affect user experience and may worsen your search engine rankings because crawlers may think that your website is poorly maintained or coded. Please note that our crawler may detect a working link as broken. Generally, this happens if the server hosting the website you're referring to blocks our crawler from accessing this website.

How to fix:

Please follow all links reported as broken. If a target webpage returns an error, remove the link leading to the error page or replace it with another resource.

If the links reported as broken do work when accessed with a browser, you should contact the website's owner and inform them about the issue.

Only the first 50 rows are shown in reports. To view the full table, export it as a CSV or Excel file from Site Audit.

4xx errors

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:
A 4xx error means that a webpage cannot be accessed. This is usually the result of broken links. These errors prevent users and search engine robots from accessing your webpages, and can negatively affect both user experience and search engine crawlability. This will in turn lead to a drop in traffic driven to your website. Please be aware that crawler may detect a working link as broken if your website blocks our crawler from accessing it. This usually happens due to the following reasons:

- DDoS protection system

- Overloaded or misconfigured server

How to fix:

If a webpage returns an error, remove all links leading to the error page or replace it with another resource.

To identify all pages on your website that contain links to a 4xx page, click "View broken links" next to the error page.

If the links reported as 4xx do work when accessed with a browser, you can try either of the following:

- Contact your web hosting support team
- Instruct search engine robots not to crawl your website too frequently by specifying the "crawl-delay" directive in your robots.txt

Duplicate title tags

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:

Our crawler reports pages that have duplicate title tags only if they are exact matches.

Duplicate <title> tags make it difficult for search engines to determine which of a website's pages is relevant for a specific search query, and which one should be prioritized in search results. Pages with duplicate titles have a lower chance of ranking well and are at risk of being banned.

Moreover, identical <title> tags confuse users as to which webpage they should follow.

How to fix:

Provide a unique and concise title for each of your pages that contains your most important keywords. For information on how to create effective titles, please see this Google article.

Unminified JavaScript and CSS files

Project name: LVSC

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:

Minification is the process of removing unnecessary lines, white space and comments from the source code.

Minifying JavaScript and CSS files makes their size smaller, thereby decreasing your page load time, providing a better user experience and improving your search engine rankings.

For more information, please see this Google article.

How to fix:

Minify your JavaScript and CSS files.

If your webpage uses CSS and JS files that are hosted on an external site, contact the website owner and ask them to minify their files.

If this issue doesn't affect your page load time, simply ignore it.

Only the first 50 rows are shown in reports. To view the full table, export it as a CSV or Excel file from Site Audit.

Links lead to HTTP pages for HTTPS site

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:
If any link on website points to the old HTTP version of website, search engines can become confused as to which version of the page they should rank.

How to fix:
Replace all HTTP links with the new HTTPS versions.

Only the first 50 rows are shown in reports. To view the full table, export it as a CSV or Excel file from Site Audit.

Missing ALT attributes

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:

Alt attributes within tags are used by search engines to understand the contents of your images. If you neglect alt attributes, you may miss the chance to get a better placement in search results because alt attributes allow you to rank in image search results.

Not using alt attributes also negatively affects the experience of visually impaired users and those who have disabled images in their browsers.

For more information, please see these articles: Using ALT attributes smartly and Google Image Publishing Guidelines

How to fix:

Specify a relevant alternative attribute inside an tag for each image on your website, e.g., "".

Missing meta description

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:
Though meta descriptions don't have a direct influence on rankings, they are used by search engines to display your page's description in search results. A good description helps users know what your page is about and encourages them to click on it. If your page's meta description tag is missing, search engines will usually display its first sentence, which may be irrelevant and unappealing to users. For more information, please see these articles: Create good titles and snippets in Search Results and On-Page SEO Basics: Meta Descriptions

How to fix:
In order to gain a higher click-through rate, you should ensure that all of your webpages have meta descriptions that contain relevant keywords.

Broken external images

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:
A broken external image is an image that can't be displayed because it no longer exists or because its URL is misspelled. Having too many broken external images negatively affects user experience and may be a signal to search engines that your website is poorly coded or maintained.

How to fix:

To fix a broken external image, perform one of the following:

- If an image was deleted or damaged, replace it with a new one
- If an image is no longer needed, simply remove it from your page's code
- If an image moved to a different location and you know its new address, change its URL

Low text to HTML ratio

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:
Your text to HTML ratio indicates the amount of actual text you have on your webpage compared to the amount of code. This issue is triggered when your text to HTML is 10% or less. Search engines have begun focusing on pages that contain more content. That's why a higher text to HTML ratio means your page has a better chance of getting a good position in search results. Less code increases your page's load speed and also helps your rankings. It also helps search engine robots crawl your website faster.

How to fix:
Split your webpage's text content and code into separate files and compare their size. If the size of your code file exceeds the size of the text file, review your page's HTML code and consider optimizing its structure and removing embedded scripts and styles.

Low word count

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:

This issue is triggered if the number of words on your webpage is less than 200.
The amount of text placed on your webpage is a quality signal to search engines.
Search engines prefer to provide as much information to users as possible, so pages with longer content tend to be placed higher in search results, as opposed to those with lower word counts.
For more information, please view this video

How to fix:

Improve your on-page content and be sure to include more than 200 meaningful words.

Missing h1

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:

While less important than <title> tags, h1 headings still help define your page's topic for search engines and users. If an <h1> tag is empty or missing, search engines may place your page lower than they would otherwise. Besides, a lack of an <h1> tag breaks your page's heading hierarchy, which is not SEO friendly.

How to fix:

Provide a concise, relevant h1 heading for each of your page.

Short title element

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:
Generally, using short titles on webpages is a recommended practice. However, keep in mind that titles containing 10 characters or less do not provide enough information about what your webpage is about and limit your page's potential to show up in search results for different keywords.
For more information, please see this Google article

How to fix:
Add more descriptive text inside your page's <title> tag.

Permanent redirects

Project name: LVSC

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:
Although using permanent redirects (a 301 or 308 redirect) is appropriate in many situations (for example, when you move a website to a new domain, redirect users from a deleted page to a new one, or handle duplicate content issues), we recommend that you keep them to a reasonable minimum. Every time you redirect one of your website's pages, it decreases your crawl budget, which may run out before search engines can crawl the page you want to be indexed. Moreover, too many permanent redirects can be confusing to users.

How to fix:
Review all URLs with a permanent redirect. Change permanent redirects to a target page URL where possible.

Only the first 50 rows are shown in reports. To view the full table, export it as a CSV or Excel file from Site Audit.

Resources formatted as page links

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:
We detected that some links to resources are formatted with  HTML element. An  tag with a href attribute is used to link to other webpages and must only contain a page URL. Search engines will crawl your site from page to page by following these HTML page links. When following a page link that contains a resource, for example, an image, the returned page will not contain anything except an image. This may confuse search engines and will indicate that your site has poor architecture.

How to fix:
Review your links. Replace  links with tags necessary for specific resources. For example, if you'd like to add an image, use an tag with an alt attribute describing the contents of your image.

Only the first 50 rows are shown in reports. To view the full table, export it as a CSV or Excel file from Site Audit.

Orphaned sitemap pages

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:
An orphaned page is a webpage that is not linked to internally. Including orphaned pages in your sitemap.xml files is considered to be a bad practice, as these pages will be crawled by search engines. Crawling outdated orphaned pages will waste your crawl budget. If an orphaned page in your sitemap.xml file has valuable content, we recommend that you link to it internally.

How to fix:
Review all orphaned pages in your sitemap.xml files and do either of the following:

- If a page is no longer needed, remove it
- If a page has valuable content and brings traffic to your website, link to it from another page on your website
- If a page serves a specific need and requires no internal linking, leave it as is

Pages with only one internal link

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:
Having few incoming internal links means little to no visits or chances of being placed in search results.

How to fix:
Add more incoming internal links to pages with important content.

Multiple h1 tags

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:
Although multiple <h1> tags are allowed in HTML5, we still do not recommend that you use more than one <h1> tag per page. Including multiple <h1> tags may confuse users.

How to fix:
Use multiple <h2>-<h6> tags instead of an <h1>.

No HSTS support

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:

HTTP Strict Transport Security (HSTS) informs web browsers that they can communicate with servers only through HTTPS connections. So, to ensure that you don't serve unsecured content to your audience, we recommend that you implement HSTS support.

How to fix:

Use a server that supports HSTS.

Llms.txt not found

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:
The llms.txt file helps AI search engines better understand your website's content by providing LLM-friendly information. This file offers a short summary, guidance, and links to other useful resources.

How to fix:

- Create an llms.txt file.
- Place it in your website's root directory and ensure the file is accessible.
- Refer to llmstxt.org for examples and tips on how to properly create and manage it.

Blocked external resources in robots.txt

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:
Blocked external resources are resources (e.g., CSS, JavaScript, image files, etc.) that are hosted on an external website and blocked from crawling by a "Disallow" directive in an external robots.txt file. Disallowing these files may prevent search engines from accessing them and, as a result, properly rendering and indexing your webpages. This, in return, may lead to lower rankings. For more information, please see this article.

How to fix:
If blocked resources that are hosted on an external website have a strong impact on your website, contact the website owner and ask them to edit their robots.txt file.
If blocked resources are not necessary for your site, simply ignore them.

Page Crawl Depth more than 3 clicks

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:
A page's crawl depth is the number of clicks required for users and search engine crawlers to reach it via its corresponding homepage. From an SEO perspective, an excessive crawl depth may pose a great threat to your optimization efforts, as both crawlers and users are less likely to reach deep pages.

For this reason, pages that contain important content should be no more than 3 clicks away from your homepage.

How to fix:

Make sure that pages with important content can be reached within a few clicks.
If any of them are buried too deep in your site, consider changing your internal link architecture.
